

ABSTRACT

This study aims to analyze the effect of current ratio, debt to asset ratio, net profit margin, return on assets, and return on equity on profit growth. The population in this study were all companies on construction, property, and real estate sector listed in Indonesia Stock Exchange Database for the year 2018 to 2021. The sampling methode used in this research was purposive sampling. Total number of samples used in this study were 96 study samples. The data used in this study were obtained from Bloomberg Database. The data in this study were analyzed using panel data regression techniques. The result of this study indicate that current ratio and return on assets has positive effect on profit growth. While, debt to assets ratio, net profit margin, and return on equity has no effect on profit growth.

Keyword : current ratio, debt to assets ratio, net profit margin, return on assets, return on equity, profit growth.