

ABSTRACT

The aim of this study is to examine the influence of gender diversity of the executive coporate to firm value, with tax avoidance as a mediation variable

The population used in this study consist of mining firms listed on the Indonesia Stock Exchange in 2012-2015. The sampling method used in this study is purposive sampling and obtained 87 samples. This study uses simple regression analysis for hypotheses testing.

The result of this study show that variable of gender diversity of executive had possitively significant influence on tax avoidance, and gender diversity of executive had negatively significant influence on firm value, while, variables of tax avoidance had no significant influence on firm value. The last, tax avoidance had no influence as mediation variable .

Kata kunci : gender diversity, tax avoidance, firm value, good corporate governance.