ABSTRACT

This research aims to determine the impact of working hours, age, the level of education, and the number of children to the wife tobacco farmer's income as well as the wife's income contribution to increase their family income in Desa Bansari Kecamatan Bansari Kabupaten Temanggung Jawa Tengah. This research uses analysis linear regression method and descriptive quantitative analysis. The data is obtained by taking survey, interview, and questionnaire. The sampling in this research uses purposive sampling and gets 100 sample by using slovin.

The result of this research shows that working hours, wife's age, the level of education of wife have positive significant result, then the number of children does not have any significant to the wife's income. The wife's income contribution also does not have impact to family income.

Key Word: Income family, Wife's Income, Working Hours, Age, Education, Husband's Income, The Number of Dependents.