

ABSTRACT

This research aims was to investigate the factors that influenced the behavioral intention taxpayers for using e-filing, particularly in Semarang. The variables which are used in this research is dependent variabel that is behavioral intention for the e-filing usage while independent variables is performance expectancy, effort expectancy, complexity, voluntariness, experience, security and privacy, speed.

Data used in this researchis primary data by using questionnaire. Respondent is the Corporate Taxpayers who use e-filing in Semarang. Sample collection methods used in this research was convenience sampling. Data analysis in this research uses the Technology Acceptance Models (TAM) that combined with Unified theory of acceptance and use of technology (UTAUT) with SPSS program.

The result of this research are as follows: (1) prformance expectancy significantly positive influence to behavioral intention for the e-filing usage, (2) effort expectancy significantly positive influence to behavioral intention for the e-filing usage, (3) Complexity did not significantly positive influence to behavioral intention for the e-filing usage, (4) Voluntariness significantly positive influence to behavioral intention for the e-filing usage, (5) The experience did not significantly positive against the interests of E-filing behavior, (6) Security and Privacy did not significantly positive influence to behavioral intention for the e-filing usage, (7) Speed did not significantly positive influence to behavioral intention for the e-filing usage.

Keyword: Technology Acceptance Models (TAM), Unified theory of acceptance and use of technology (UTAUT), e-filing, performance expectancy, effort expectancy, complexity, voluntariness, experience, security and privacy, speed