

ABSTRACT

Based on the research gap and the gap phenomenon that has previously described the research problem in this study can be formulated that there are inconsistencies between empirical phenomena with existing theory and research inconsistencies. The using of variables in this research are institutional ownership, managerial ownership, dividend policy, policy on debt and value of enterprise variable size companies, including control the growth of the company and the performance of the company (study on the manufacturing companies listed on the Indonesia stock exchange period 2009-2011).

The population in this research is all the manufacturing companies listed on the Indonesian stock exchange from 2009 to 2011 period. A sample in this research is manufacturing firm in accordance with the specified criteria. A method of analysis used the statistics descriptive and the assumption of classical continued with linear regression worship of idols with the level of significance of 5%.

This study concludes some of the following : Institutional ownership variable is not proven to affect the value of the company, Variable managerial ownerships proven to affects the firm value, Dividend policy is proved positive to affect the value of the company, Debt policy proven to effect on firm value, The size of the company is proved positive effect on firm value, The growth of the company is not proven to affect the value of the firm, The performance of the company proved positive to effect firm value.

Keywords: managerial ownership, institutional ownership, dividend policy, debt policy, the size of the company, the company's growth, the company's performance and the value of the company.