

ABSTRACT

The purpose of the research is to investigate and get empirical evidence of the effect corporate governance quality, corporate social responsibility (CSR) disclosure and earnings quality on firm value in company which listed in Indonesian Stock Exchange (IDX) for the periode 2011-2015.

Population of the research is all listed public company in IDX for the periode 2011-2015. The sampling method this research used is purposive sampling with total sample 9 companies for each period which consist of financial industry, mining, and infrastructure, utilities and transportation. To test the hypothesis of this research, we used multiple linear regression analysis.

The results of this reasearch shows that overall hypothesis accepted is corporate governance quality, corporate social responsibility disclosure and earnings quality have a significant positive effect on firm value.

Keyword: corporate governance quality, corporate social responsibilty (CSR) disclosure, earning quality and firm value.